SPECIAL RATES FOR BACK NUMBERS
OF THE
American Journal of Archaeology
(SECOND SERIES)
TO
NEW MEMBERS OF THE INSTITUTE
AND TO
LIBRARIES

In order to encourage and facilitate the forming of complete sets of the JOURNAL OF THE INSTITUTE the Council allows

Members of the Institute who have joined since 1897, and thus have not received all the volumes of the JOURNAL, to complete their sets by the payment of

Three-fifths the Ordinary Price, or $3.00

instead of $5.00 a volume. Those who desire six or more volumes may obtain them at half-price, or $2.50 a volume.

Libraries

which shall place the JOURNAL upon their lists of periodicals to be taken in, may obtain the

First Eight Volumes, 1897-1904, at $20.00 instead of $40.00 for the Set.

Libraries which have partial sets may complete them at the terms offered to members of the Institute.

These offers can remain open only as long as the supply of volumes set apart for the purpose continues.

Correspondence should be addressed to

AMERICAN SCHOOL AT ATHENS

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America, in 1881, and is supported by the coöperation of leading American Universities and Colleges. No charge for tuition is made to graduates of the supporting institutions; other students are required to pay a fee of $25 per annum for tuition and library privileges. Two Fellowships, with a stipend of $600 each, are awarded on examination; the examinations in 1906 (for the Fellowships of 1906-1907) will be held on March 15-17. A Fellowship in Architecture also, with a stipend of $1000, will be maintained for the next three years by the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The library of the School contains more than 4000 carefully selected volumes.

In 1905-1906 Professor WILLIAM NICKERSON BATES, of the University of Pennsylvania, the annually appointed Professor, is in charge of the School, with Mr. LACEY D. CASKEY as Secretary. In 1906-1907 the successor of the late Director, Dr. HEERMANCE, will have been elected, and Professor JOHN H. WRIGHT, of Harvard University, will hold the annual Professorship.

For further information, address the Chairman of the Managing Committee,

Professor JAMES R. WHEELER,
Columbia University, New York, N.Y.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN ROME

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES IN ROME (Via Vicenza, 5) was founded in 1895 by the Archaeological Institute of America, and is affiliated with it and with the American School at Athens. It offers to graduates in Arts of American colleges, and, under exceptional circumstances, to other persons of marked qualifications, instruction and assistance in advanced classical and archaeological studies. Regular courses of lectures and practical exercises, chiefly in the field or in the museums, are given by the resident American instructors and by distinguished foreign specialists. Liberal opportunities for study are afforded in the great museums and libraries. Archaeological excursions are arranged for and conducted. The Director of the School is Professor RICHARD NORTON. The Professors of Latin are, for 1905-1906, Professor CLIFFORD HERSCHEL MOORE, of Harvard University, and Professor JESSE BENEDICT CARTER, of Princeton University; for 1906-1907, Professor HARRY L. WILSON, of Johns Hopkins University.

Tuition is free to graduates of "coöperating colleges." One or more Fellowships in Classical Archaeology, each of $600, and usually one in Christian Archaeology, of $500, are awarded annually on competitive examination, which (for the Fellowships of 1906-1907) will be held on March 12-14, 1906. Two Research Fellowships also, each of $800, have been established by the Carnegie Institution, which will be awarded for the year 1906-1907.

For further information, address the Chairman of the Managing Committee,

Professor ANDREW F. WEST,
Princeton University, Princeton, N.J.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN PALESTINE

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL FOR ORIENTAL STUDY AND RESEARCH IN PALESTINE was founded in 1900, and is affiliated with the Archaeological Institute of America. It is supported by a number of American Universities and Theological Seminaries and by private subscriptions. The School is established in Jerusalem, and offers to properly qualified persons excellent opportunities for the study of the geography, archaeology, and history of Syria, and of the Semitic languages. A Fellowship, with a stipend of $600, is awarded annually on examination. The Director of the School for 1905-1906 is Professor BENJAMIN WISNER BACON, of Yale University. The Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships is Professor CHARLES C. TORREY, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.
